

View of Sudbury River during flood showing debris piled against Sherman Bridge in Wayland. Photograph by Joseph Ranco, Boston Globe, March 23, 1968

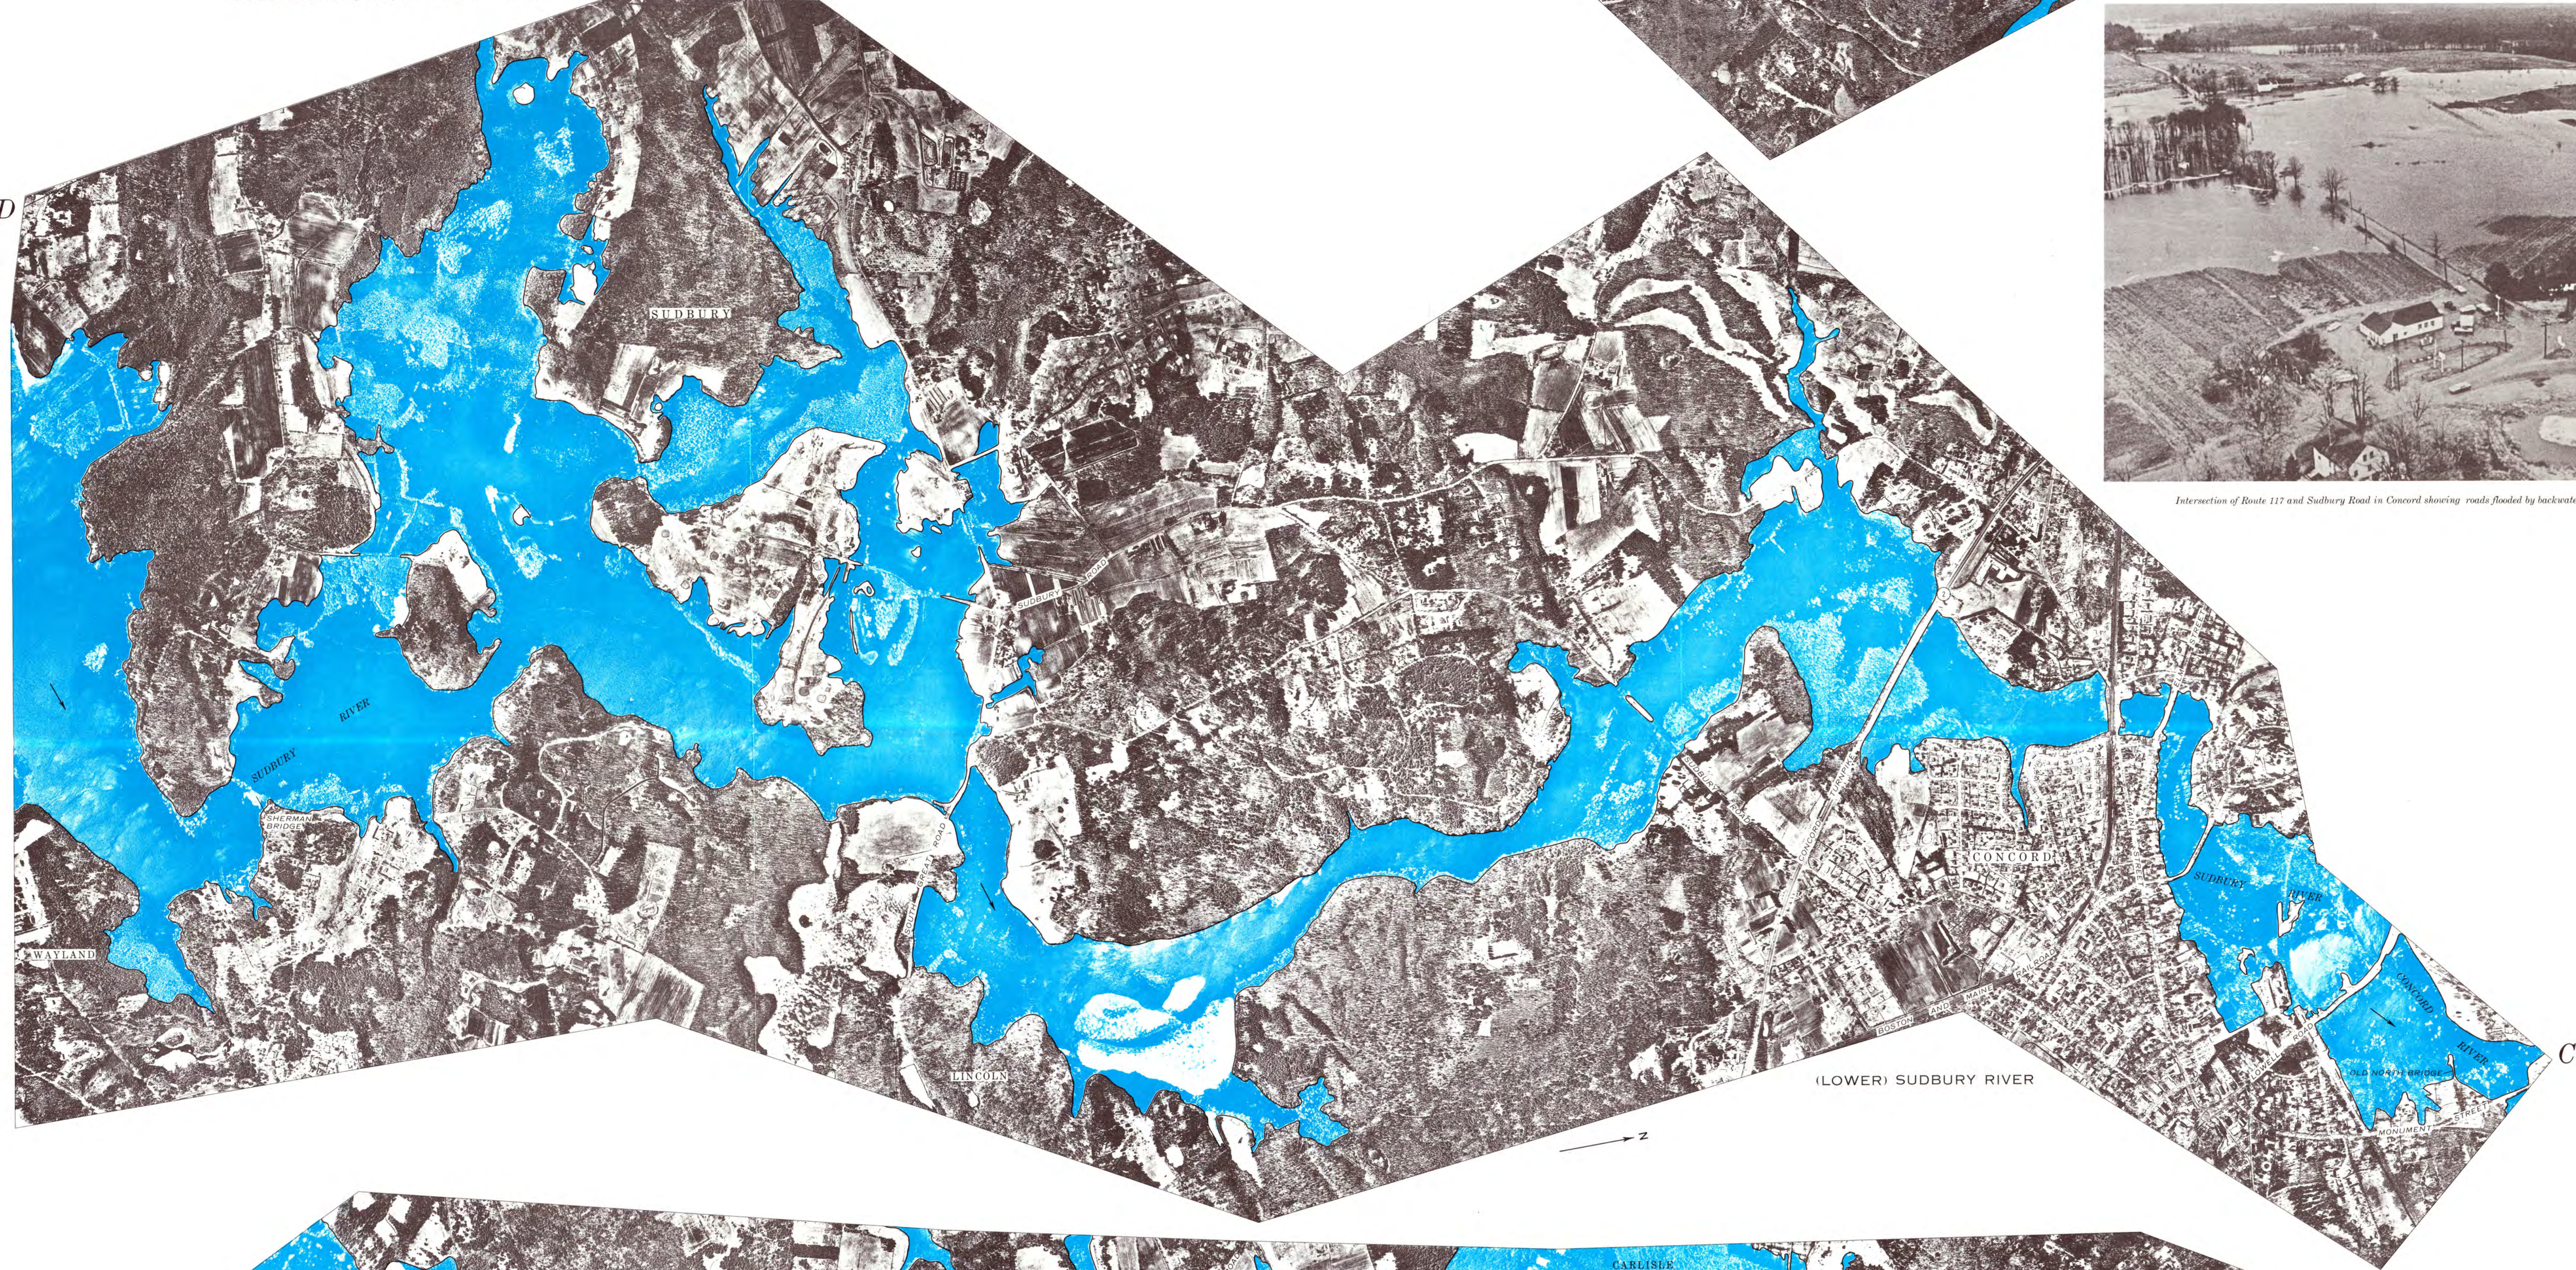

Floodwaters of Concord River at Minute Man Monument and Old North Bridge in Concord. The bridge is the one unscathed in Emerson's figure, 'By the road bridge that marked the flood.' Photograph by Joseph Ranco, Boston Globe, March 23, 1968

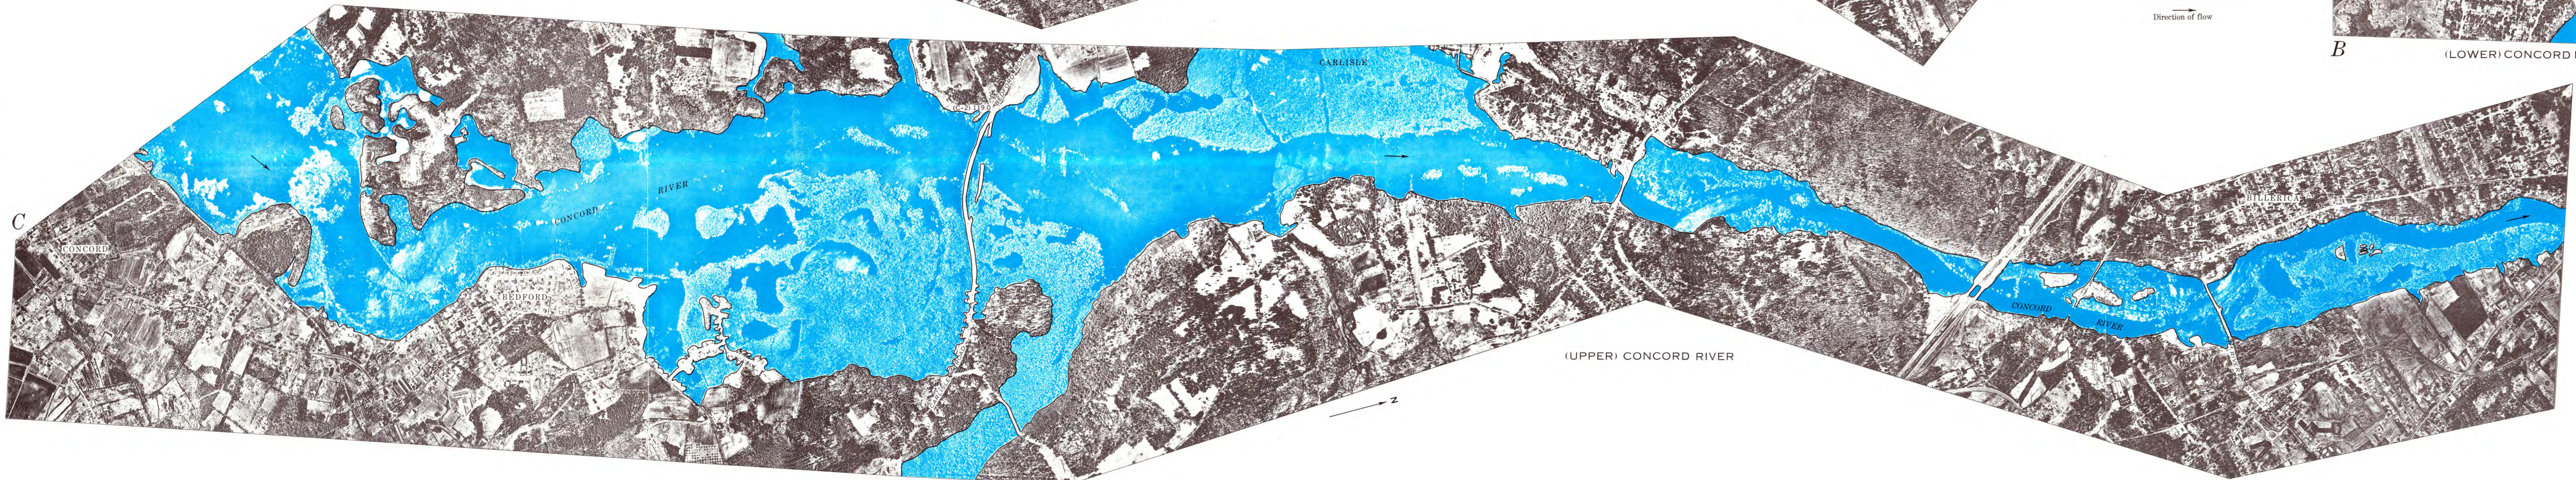

(UPPER) SUDBURY RIVER

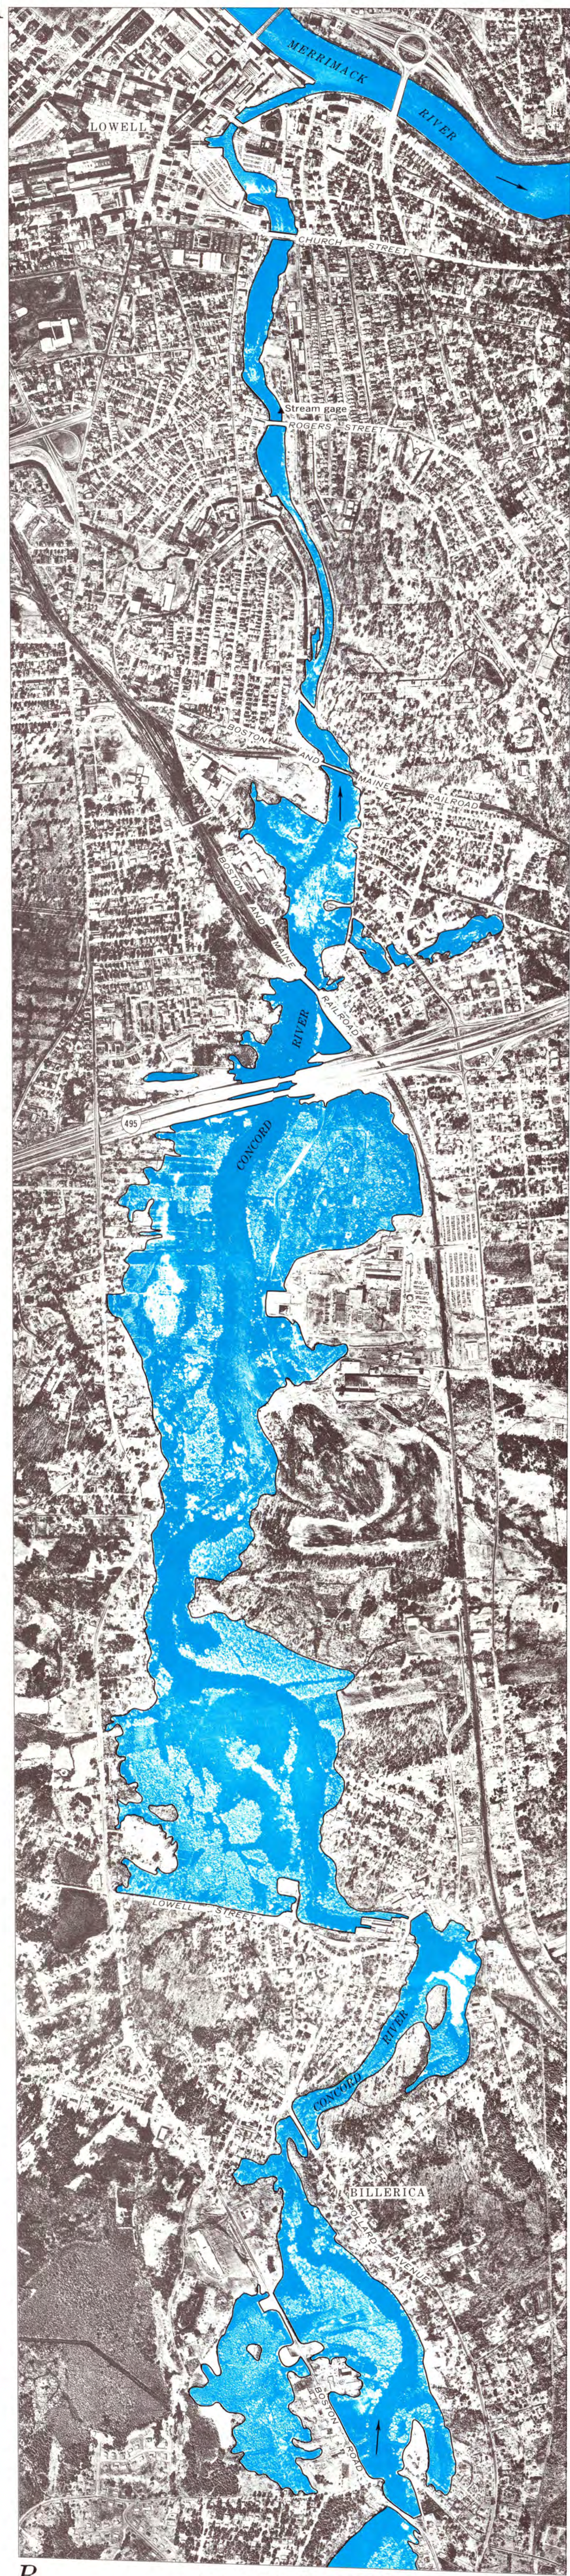

Intersection of Route 127 and Sudbury Road in Concord showing roads flooded by backwater from Sudbury River about 1/4 mile to the east. Photograph by Joseph Ranco, Boston Globe, March 25, 1968

(LOWER) SUDBURY RIVER

(UPPER) CONCORD RIVER

(LOWER) CONCORD RIVER

EXPLANATION

Area flooded March 1968

Boundary of March 1968 flood

Direction of flow

FLOOD OF MARCH 1968 ON THE SUDBURY, ASSABET, AND CONCORD RIVERS, MASSACHUSETTS

By
R. G. Petersen, G. K. Wood, and R. A. Gadoury
1970